FUND UPDATE

ALF's Net Asset Value ("NAV") fell by 2.88% in the first quarter of 2024. The performance was driven by FX movements as the Brazilian Real depreciated vs. the USD by 3.2% during the quarter, affecting the Vision positions.

Vision's external legal team was recently informed that the judge is imminently going to publish his ruling on their Eletrobras complaint filed in February 2024. Eletrobras' arguments to obstruct the withdrawal of the amount deposited in escrow have been exhausted. The court will rule on the request for withdrawal and on Eletrobras' bad faith litigation. The case concluded on April 10, and the 4th Court's decisions take an average of 60 days to be published. Vision expect a decision within the next few weeks. We will keep shareholders updated with regards to the ruling given its material importance to ALF's liquidity.

The formal documentation for the recapitalisation of Vision FCVS RJ Fund (RJ) is in lawyers' hands. The re-cap will see the RJ Fund receiving $3mm in cash from external funders, in exchange for 18% of the RJ Funds equity. The $3mm will be used to pay back the principal from Vision Invest RJ ($1.35mm), which is approximately $320k for ALF. The balance will be used for working capital in the RJ Fund. The validation of the RJ claims at Caixa is progressing well, with continuous interaction between Caixa, Vision and the service providers.

ALF VALUATION METHODOLOGY

ALF is invested in approximately 24 illiquid third-party funds and companies*. The quality of assets and information provided by the managers of these funds varies greatly. While many funds provide regular net asset value estimates of their portfolio, the Board believes that these valuations can be optimistic in their inputs or assumptions and it is generally expected that these type of funds trade at a discount to these valuations in the secondary market (where observable). Some of the funds in the ALF portfolio are also delinquent in providing their valuation estimates and/or have not had their accounts audited in a regular timeframe. As such, the Board thinks it is appropriate to review the valuations provided by the underlying funds and apply provisions where appropriate. Unfortunately, the secondary market for fund interests is not deep, is characterized by many small transactions and pricing information is not transparent. Price points can also be skewed adversely through the activity of one-off, highly motivated sellers. As such, the Board cannot readily apply a 'mark to secondary bid' valuation approach.

As previously mentioned, the provisioning process takes into account the quality of the information received from the underlying funds, their valuation processes, geographical locations and risks associated with an underlying fund's assets. Where possible, this analysis is then checked against observable secondary market activity. Provisions are applied based on the following criteria:

1. Where a manager, liquidator or other authorized party has advised that they expect a recovery materially less than the stated net asset value, the conservative end of the recovery range is used.

Where no third-party guidance is received, the Board applies provisions of 10% – 50% across each of the following criteria cumulatively:

2. If the net asset value is delinquent and/or not provided within the timeframe previously advised to investors, a provision is applied.
3. If a third-party liquidator (or similar) has been appointed, an incremental discount is applied and if this party has not made progress on the fund in a reasonable time frame, this discount may be increased.
4. The Board seeks to receive bottom-up information on the remaining assets in each of the underlying funds. Because these funds are run by third parties, it is not always possible to get the full amount of information desired. An incremental discount is applied if the additional asset level information desired has not been received.
5. If fund audited financial statements are late or qualified, a discount is applied, which increases if an audit has not been completed for several years.
6. It is expected that invested funds have third party administrators/valuation agents. Should the Board not be able to determine whether such a group is still involved, an incremental discount is applied.
7. An additional discount is applied relating to the perceived incremental geographic, political or currency related risk of the fund or manager.
8. It is not uncommon for legacy illiquid funds to be involved in some type of litigation or have issues with key regulators. An incremental discount is applied depending on the severity of the litigation or investigation.
9. Should the fund or assets still have significant leverage, an incremental discount is applied.

The Board then gathers the cumulative discounts applied in steps 1 through 9 and seeks to compare the proposed provision against what is observable in the secondary market. The following incremental test is applied.

10. If the Board is aware of a reliable third party, completed secondary market price that is:
 - a. Within the last 6 months: AND
 - b. At a discount to the manager-provided net asset value of greater than 50% discount; AND
 - c. The price is more than 25% different to the Board's price calculated by applying 1 through 9, then an extra provision is applied to equate the provision levels to the secondary market value. The Board will keep that provision in place until new and/or significant information emerges.

*Includes portfolio holdings with a positive NAV after provisions.
